History

Sylhet MAG Osmani Medical College

Adorned by the noble shrine of Hazrat Shah Jalal at the backdrop of exquisite tea gardens, Sylhet M.A.G. Osmani Medical College (SOMC) was established in 1962 at the majestic city of Sylhet in Bangladesh.

With its attached thousand bed hospital, the college serves the entire north-east of Bangladesh and hosts students from home and abroad.

The college was renamed to its current form in 1986 from the original "Sylhet Medical College" at the honor of late General Muhammad Ataul Gani Osmani, a native of Sylhet and a decorated national hero, who successfully led the liberation war in 1971.

The college offers many courses in various disciplines including five years graduate course leading to Bachelor of Medicine and Surgery (MBBS) and five years post graduate course leading to Doctor of Medicine (MD). In January 1993 the college was recognized by the General Medical Council of U.K.

First batch graduated in 1968. Both fourth and fifth batches graduated in 1972 due to the ongoing liberation war that led to the bloody birth of Bangladesh. Sylhet M.A.G. Osmani Medical College is affiliated with Shahjalal University of Science and Technology (SUST) under the School of Medical Sciences. Previously, it was affiliated with the University of Chittagong.

This prestigious institution is very well known to produce fine doctors who go on to become leading health care providers, scholars and academics around the globe. Their presence and contributions to the North American communities in particular are quite palpable.

Sylhet M.A.G. Osmani Medical College Alumni Association, North America (SOMCAANA) was established in 2003 to re-affirm the association between the college and its former students and to take it to newer heights.

SOMCAANA members pay frequent visits to the college as guest speakers and help introduce educational, technological and other advancements in modern medicine. They also provide active support through seminars, workshops, merit awards and the likes.

Since its inception, SOMCAANA members convene every other year to celebrate and proclaim their unconditional love to the institution they so passionately call SOMC.

Message

President

Sylhet Osmani Medical College Alumni Association, North America

I welcome all the members of SOMCAA,NA, their families, friends, guests, media personnel, vendors and cultural team to the 7th biennial convention of Sylhet Osmani Medical College Alumni Association, North America (SOMCAANA) here at Sheraton Inner Harbor Hotel at Baltimore, Maryland.

Sylhet M.A.G. Osmani Medical College, our beloved institution, provided us not only to be physicians, but also to be decent human beings to provide love and compassion to the humanity. As physicians we have learned to give utmost respect and medical services to the most valued customers, our patients. We also have made examples by contributing to the advancement of medical science in our places of work within the United States as well as to our motherland. Undoubtably, It is our institution, the Sylhet Osmani Medical College that has helped us grow up to this level.

I am honored to have this opportunity to serve the Sylhet Medical College Alumni Association of North America for the past two years. I am grateful to each member of SOMCAA, NA for placing his/her trust on me. We have learned at our beloved institution to have respect for the seniors and love for juniors. I tried my best to serve this distinct organization with fairness, equality, efficiency, love and respect for all.

Let's move our organization forward with unity and efficiency. Together we can make this organization go even further.

I would like to thank the executive and convention committees for their valuable time and effort to make this event successful and memorable. Without their active help and support we wouldn't be able to have come this far. I would also like to thank all our members, support groups and attendees for their participation at the convention. I hope that all of you would enjoy the SOMCAA, NA convention - 2018.

Message from Convener SOMCAANA Convention 2018

Welcome to the 7th biennial Convention of Sylhet MAG Osmani Medical College Alumni Association of North America. With everyone's efforts and member's supports we came a long way to organize this year's convention outside of New York for the first time with renewed enthusiasm. I am thankful to all the alumni members particularly the members from the mid-Atlantic area for their commitment, hard work and motivation to present this annual convention for everyone to enjoy.

I am privileged to play a part in an energetic team guided by our president. I request all our members to support our younger colleagues to help achieve their goals and to excel in their career as well as guide them to be the future leaders of both this organization and community. Let us continue to build a culture based on respect and professionalism while putting away any and all the differences and intolerances that may lurk within.

Organizing this biennial convention to entertain our members and guests could not be possible without active participation of our members and sponsors. I would like to mention Drs. Syed Mahtab Ahmed and Faisal Hasan who orchestrated this event whole heartedly. We truly appreciate their generous support. Thank you all for joining us on this great reunion. Hope you will enjoy every bit of this program.

Thank you.

Dr. Mustaq Siddique (Mamun), MD

Editor's Desk

As we walk the walks day in and day out, Sylhet MAG Osmani Medical College (SOMC) remains the boulevard of our lives. We have crossed the Surma, the Bay of Bengal and the Atlantic; we have scaled many city walls to reach where we are now, leaving surely pieces of us far behind. SOMC has been such a darling that we keep on connecting ourselves to it at every merry turn we make and at every sweet tale we tell.

Today we gather at the Sheraton Inner Harbor, Baltimore, Maryland together to celebrate once more our love to SOMC. It is only fitting that we pick of all cities, Baltimore, the birth place of The Star-Spangled Banner, the national Anthem of the United States of America, to pronounce and proclaim our love.

In this souvenir, we tried hard to capture the everlasting passion we cherish at every gasp we take towards our beloved institution. It never escaped us even for a tiny moment what an incredibly impossible task this has been, more so for the time and skill we have at our hands. Please do take our effort kindly if we come up short which we know we did, of expectations.

Many thanks to Dr. A.S.M. Junnun Choudhury, Dr. Mohammed A. Rahman (Mukta), Dr. Mustaq Siddique (Mamun), Dr. Faisal Hasan, Dr. Syed Mahtab Ahmed, Dr. Mohammed Enamul Huq and Dr. Abul F. Khan for their tremendous discipline to make this convention a reality. Congratulations to the members of Executive and Convention Committees for their dynamic and animated effort to bring beauty and success to the convention. Special thanks to Dr. Sina Ibn Alam for his round the clock support. This souvenir would not have seen the daylight without his unconditional love and dedication. Cheers to our sponsors for their much valued support. Highest plaudits and accolades go to all the members of Sylhet Osmani Medical College Alumni Association, North America (SOMCAANA) for continuing to drive this organization home and making it worth loving.

Welcome to SOMCAANA 2018, the 7th edition of our biennial convention. Hope you and your family will enjoy a happy and blissful day.

Thank You.

Secretary Report: 2017-2018

Dear Alumni,

The Sylhet MAG Osmani Medical College alumni came together with the intention to socialize themselves for the benefit of their family and children to form an association on October 18, 2003. SOMCAANA strives to promote the quality of medical education and support the needs of SOMC medical students with appropriate programs and build closer relations between the alumni, the students, the faculty, and the administration of the medical school. Current Executive Committee of Sylhet Osmani Medical College Alumni Association of North America took offices on January 1, 2017 for a two years term. As of today, we have 50 life members and 100 general members. We hope to finish our term in net positive balance.

During last two years we held many executive committee and general meetings of our alumni to promote our medical college to the greater society and to welcome new comers to the USA. The 2017 picnic was hosted by SOMCAANA at Astoria Park, Astoria, NY on August 13, 2017. The event was highlighted by sports, entertainment and delicious food. The picnic was well attended by alumni living in the tristate area and there were even guests visiting from Bangladesh.

SOMCAANA DEVELOPMENTAL AND CONTINGENCY project had made lump sum donations to ailing Alumni who were in desperate financial and medical need. SOMCAANA gave out student loans to alumni towards their payment of licensing examination fees. As you know, all SOMCAANA projects are self funded, meaning no membership dues goes to fund any of these projects. Membership dues are solely used for educational purpose. SOMCAANA appreciates and thanks all members who voluntarily contribute and subsidize all such projects. We are still looking at the feasibility to start a library to help young physician take their exam prep course. A permanent self-sustaining benefit fund project will be very helpful in the long run.

SOMCAANA members has long been participating and taking leadership in various educational as well as social processes and organizations both here in the United States and in Bangladesh. SOMCAANA is recognized as the best-organized Bangladeshi Medical College alumni association in North America. We are proud to represent a dynamic group of scholarly members who continue to excel in the field of medicine worldwide.

We are expecting this convention balance sheet will break-even. We always welcome our alumni to introduce new ideas concerning any projects or volunteer work. All the achievements we have attained in the past two years can be accredited to the executive committee members as well as volunteer alumni. Finally, I thank our members for their generous cash and kind support throughout the year, without their help we couldn't have come to where we are today. I am projecting greater success for the upcoming executive committee for the years 2019-2020.

Sincerely,
Dr. Mohammed A. Rahman
